

Summer 2006

Dear Parents:

This year we are continuing our Evansville Day School Library Birthday Book Program. Many families have enjoyed contributing to the growth of our school library in this personal way.

If you and your daughter or son is interested in participating, you may contribute $15.00, the average cost of a book. During the month of the student's birthday, the participating student will come to the library and select a book from a large variety of highly recommended books, which the school will have purchased. These books will not be in circulation, but they will be completely processed. When the birthday student selects a book, it will be ready to circulate as soon as it receives a bookplate complete with the student's name and birthday. In the lower grades the book will be shared with the class, and the birthday student will have the opportunity to be the first to check out the book. Students with birthdays in June, July and August may take part during September and October.

If you would like to donate a newspaper or magazine to the library, please indicate on the form printed on the back of this letter. Donations of any amount will be noted on our newspaper/magazine rack with child's birthday. The Evansville Courier is very popular at Evansville Day School. Your older student might want to contribute toward a magazine or newspaper instead of a book.

If this program is one in which you would like to take part, please complete the form on the back and return it to me with your check made payable to EDS Birthday Book Program. (A separate check for the library program is helpful for accounting purposes.) We are looking forward to the continuation of our EDS Library Birthday Book Program.

Sincerely,

Kay Ellis
Librarian

Dear Kay,

Yes! My child(ren) would like to select a book to donate to the EDS Library from your collection of birthday books.
